SOCIETY

Miss Genevieve Hearick and Miss Sarella Hearick, of Kansas City, are visiting their aunt, Mrs. Frank Scott Davis, this week. Mrs. Paul Hudson, of the City of Mexico, will arrive the first of September to visit her mother, Mrs. Nathan Price, and her sister, Mrs. Marie Price. During the late disturbances in Mexico, when Americans were flocking back to the States, coming home to mother like a disillusioned bride, the Hudsons stayed with their country and bore the inconveniences incident to a state of petty warfare. Now that the Americans are returning to Mexico and affairs are getting into a normal condition again, Mrs. Hudson is planning her annual visit north.

Miss Pauline Hudson, who is now visiting relatives in Salem, Ohio, will arrive the first of August to be with Price and Mrs. Wear until the middle of September, when she will go to New York to resume her school work.

Miss Majorie Rodgers will be hostess at a breakfast Saturday morning at the Country club, complimentary to Miss Genevieve Hearick and Miss Sarella Hearick, of Kansas City, who are guests of Mrs. Frank Scott Davis.

A letter from a Topeka traveler brings with it the air of the hedge-rows and hillsides and all the tame and quiet beauty of the much-praised rural England. Mr. Alex Spencer, who is abroad this year, writes describing a house party at which he and Mr. Phillip Whitcomb, also of Topeka, were guests. The party was given by one of Mr. Whitcomb's fellow students at Oxford University, at his country home. Mr. Whitcomb did not return home for the summer holidays, but has been with Mr. Spencer in his tour of England. Mr. Spencer's itinerary includes the British Islands, France, Germany, Switzerland, and Belgium. He will return in the early autumn and will take a position as principal of the Seneca, Kansas, High School. Mr. Whitcomb will remain in England for his second year in Oxford.

This serviceable and yet dainty little blouse was developed in dark blue summer silk with dainty touches of white on sleeves and collar which relieve the somber effect and make for more perfect cleanliness. This is an excellent model for traveling as the collar of batiste and embroidery over the square silk collar of the blouse, and also the cuff, may be removed and laundered very easily. The square collar of the batiste is hem-stitched. The batiste collar and cuffs are bordered with embroidery bands and finished with narrow ruffles.

Miss Elizabeth Culver left Thursday for Kansas City, and today she went on to Chicago to join her sister, Miss Louise Culver, who has been in Chicago studying in the School of Civics and Philanthropy. She will finish her examinations this week, and from Chicago she and her sister will go north to spend the rest of the summer at Mackinac and Snow islands.

The K. U. Alumni association now being organized is open to men and women, who are students, former students or graduates of K. U. A men's club will be formed within the larger organization. The social meetings of the society will not begin until September.

An ailing young woman went to her doctor for treatment, and after diagnosing her trouble, he wrote out a prescription, at the same time vainly trying to recall the patient's name. His lapse of memory, however, he felt was quite excusable when he asked her who she was, and was answered by a blank look, deep blush and a moment's silence. Presently sheammered: "Well, I'll think of it by and by. I was just married yesterday."

Miss Alice Spencer of St. Joseph, Mo., who has been visiting Mrs. Charles Williams and Mrs. Holt, was called home Wednesday by illness. Her family, in anticipation of parties planned in her honor are recalled. ough, the leading woman at the Majestic.

A smart taffeta frock on clean-cut smart lines and resulting simplicity is shown in this sketch. This design is delightfully becoming to a slender figure which though considered so desirable from a fashionable standpoint often leaves much to be desired in the matter of grace and proportion. Lace is judiciously applied on body and sleeves and the mousseline tucker is girlishly becoming. The bib and point on the skirt are of the green taffeta embroidered in self-tone silk. Into this point the skirt is draped, from thence to the hem the skirt is buttoned with silk buttons.

Mrs. Nathan Price is visiting her son in Pittsburg, Kan. Miss Majorie Campbell of Detroit, Mich., is the guest of her cousin, Miss Rachel Coston.

WOMEN SEEK TREASURE

Natives Said to Have Given Up Charts of Pirates.

Boston, July 25.—A party of treasure hunters which left England a month ago to seek for a 10 million dollar cache of pirate gold, supposed to be buried on Cocos Island, off the Costa Rica coast, will arrive at its destination next week according to advices just received here. Anticipating trouble and possibly an armed effort by natives to take the treasure from the adventurers, if they should recover it, the Costa Rican government has sent a company of soldiers to the lonely island.

The treasure hunters are under the leadership of two young women, Miss Barrielly and Miss Davis. The former recently spent some time on the island, and her kindness to a half breed is said to have resulted in his giving her a map showing where the Pirate Bombosa and his followers cached their booty.
